↗ READER TESTIMONIALS

HLPI has become an indispensable information tool for people in project logistics. The adverts are fairly priced, the news is interesting, and one always learns something new. It's the industry's who's who and what's going on. We read it every month. And one word to their yearly awards in the different logistics fields – outstanding – and the ones that get them, really also deserve them. It's a tough and fair competition. Just great.

- Ruedi Reisdorf, CEO, Fracht Group

“I have yet to see a publication relating to the project logistics industry come close to your standards. I consider your opinions to be the only industry voice that counts.”

- Alex Baron, Logistics, Enel Green Power

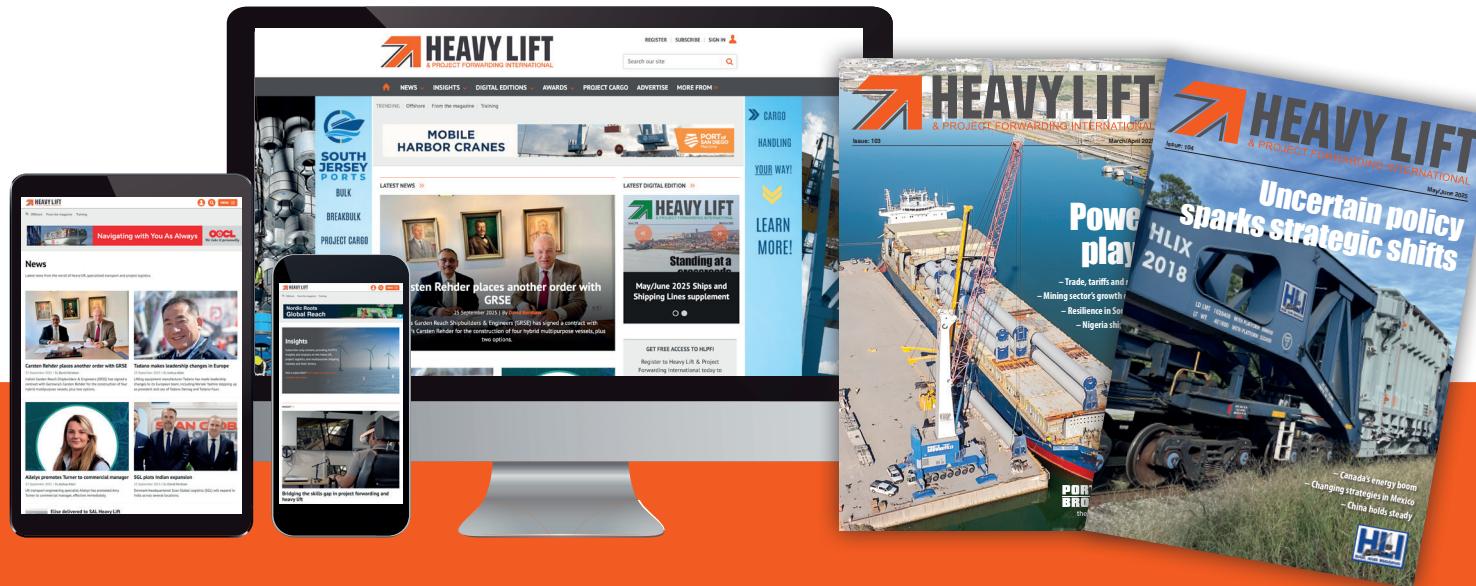

“The magazine is still delivering the goods and providing valuable insight not available elsewhere.”

- Richard Jones, Global Sales Manager, Bertling Logistics

“We have received tremendous feedback based on the news on your website. This has created fantastic new contacts for us from which we hope to sign several contracts. HLPI will be ‘the magazine’ for us in the future.”
